“I could not have been where I am today without my year at GISMA.

As a business leader you need functional expertise in all areas of a business together with the abilities to build, manage and lead teams to excellence. The memorable year spent at GISMA offered me all of that plus the ability to network with established alumni.

Luck apart, taking right decisions at the right times is what makes leaders stand out among a crowd. I joined GISMA in its first year of inception based on the potential I saw. It now even has more than a decade of successful presence in the market. So, do you want to join?”
